

Front-end development: Events

JavaScript – user age

The following exercise contains the following subjects:

- events

Instructions

Create a webpage that has an input field for the user's age and a button. If the user enters a number above 18, make the text "you can drink appear". If the user enters a number below 18, make the text "you're too young" appear.