JavaScript – super powers

---

The following exercise contains the following subjects:

- context

Instructions

Your Task: Edit the storm object. Invoke the printSuperPower function using the storm object as the context of the function.

So your output should be: my superpower is flying.

Well, Storm also controls the weather, so, whatever you choose!

You cannot change the printSuperPower function

const storm = {
  // add code here
}

function printSuperPower() { console.log("my superpower is " + this.superPower);
}
```
